Business Rates Update

Out of the economic crash which followed the banking collapse in 2008 came the government's decision to increase the small business rates relief discount.

Bristol Spaceworks was encouraged that the current system of rates relief has been extended until March 2016.

We strongly welcome the message that all the political parties are committed to reviewing the whole system of business rates, so more start-ups and SMEs can benefit from less tax on their property and increase investment in their business and staff.
